

Mandy Leith

Managing Director

I manage the company; the money and business affairs stuff, supervise production and development, and the people side of things. My most important role is ensuring that our team are happy and supported. Having worked in film and television for four decades early on I latched onto hugely talented and creative professionals, and I've held on tight ever since! Surrounding oneself with kind, passionate and committed folk, producing work they believe in, whatever the circumstances, makes my job so much easier and enjoyable! It's about the people, and oh, the films too, of course.
